

INTRODUCING THE “DISCOVERY TO GO” COLLECTION

Discovery to Go (DTG) is a new kid-friendly collection of math, science, engineering and technology items that patrons can either use in the library or checkout with an adult library card. DeWitt Community Library received a special New York State Legislative grant through former Assemblyman Sam Roberts’ office to purchase the collection and plans to make Discovery to Go items available for checkout starting in October, 2015. If you have any questions about the collection, please contact Emily Wormuth at ewormuth@onlib.org.

MaKey MaKey

Have you ever wanted to make a game controller out of playdough or play the piano with bananas? MaKey MaKey is a fun invention that allows you to turn everyday objects that conduct electricity into controllers for your computer!

Telescope: Celestron COSMOS FirstScope 76

Have you ever wanted to travel to other planets? Unfortunately, we don’t have a rocket but we do have the next best thing! Explore the night sky and find constellations, planets, meteors, and galaxies!

LEGO WeDo Construction Set

Construct an awesome LEGO creation using the pieces in the kit and then program it with the software or even in Scratch.

Snap Circuits Pro, Sounds, and Light Kits

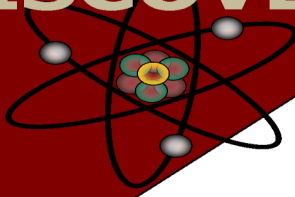

Create different electronic experiments by using the components. Once you’ve tried some of the plans, create your own!

Wolfe® Introductory Stereomicroscope

Observe the world around you up close with a stereomicroscope. You can examine whole specimens and maneuver them easily on the surface to focus on the unique patterns and textures of an item, for example a flower.

BORROWING MATERIALS FROM THE "DISCOVERY TO GO" COLLECTION

Checkout Policy:

- 1) Patrons must be at least 18 years of age to check out Discovery to Go items (other than books and media) and have a valid OCPL Library Card in good standing.
- 2) Regular loan period is three weeks, with renewals allowed except for electronic devices. Holds may also be placed for items if they are not immediately available. Extended loan periods are available to teachers.
- 3) Items must be returned to the Dewitt Community Library Reference desk. Discovery to Go items may NOT be returned to another library or returned in a book drop. Failure to comply may result in suspension of DTG borrowing privileges.

Replacement Costs:

Patrons must agree to pay all replacement costs associated with damage, loss or theft of Discovery to Go items. DTG items are marked with a label noting the item's replacement charge.

If you are unclear about the cost of an item, ask the librarian in charge before checking out the item. The librarian in charge will conduct a physical check of the DTG item when it is returned.

Regularly overdue charges will apply at .20/day and electronic devices will be charged $1.00/day, with a maximum fine of $5.00.
