

New Executive Director Named to Head the Community Library of Dewitt and Jamesville

The Library is excited to finish this year off strong with a new Executive Director, Charles Diede, who brings with him years of library and management experience he has gained in several different areas of library service around the country. The Library's Trustees appointed Charles to the position at the top of the agenda in the November Board Meeting effective December 7th.

"I moved to Syracuse over two years ago, and one of the first things I did was to sign myself and my family up as card holders at CLD&J. We love the building and all the services we've received. I'm looking forward to working there!" said Diede.

Originally from Montana, Diede has previously served as Operations Administrator for Onondaga County Public Libraries, Assistant County Librarian for the Fontana Regional Library System in North Carolina, and Director of the Hurst Library at Northwest University. In addition, Diede has extensive experience as a library consultant. Diede earned an MLS from the University of Arizona, an MBA from Northwest University, and a Bachelor of Science from the University of Idaho.
